Welcome to the Love/Hate Issue

The idea of doing an issue on love seemed so corny, sweet, syrupy, and sappy that some of us got sick to our stomachs just thinking about it. So we decided to make a Love/Hate Issue to balance things out. We hope you enjoy it, and if you don't, puhleeeeeeze don't break up with us.

3 Things You Should Know About This Magazine

1 When you see this Real! it means the story is true. Honest. Really!

2 This dog is our roving reporter, Zelda Van Gutters. Over the summer, she fell deeply, deeply in love... with her flea collar.

3 Coincidentally, while working on this issue, three people who work at Nick Mag got engaged! (Thankfully, not to one another.)

Dear Arianna,

*“I have a sculpture made out of vomit for you.”

Dear Nick Mag,

Dear Gina,

About the November issue

The image shows the cover of Nickelodeon magazine, specifically the 'All American Issue'. At the top, the text 'INFUSED WITH BASH—HEERY UNDIS!' is visible. The main title 'NICKELODEON' is in large, bold, red letters. Below it, the subtitle 'Lights! Camera! Sponge!' is written in a stylized, colorful font. The central illustration depicts Patrick Star and SpongeBob SquarePants. Patrick is on the left, wearing a red shirt, and SpongeBob is on the right, wearing his signature yellow square shirt. They are both smiling and appear to be part of a large, stylized hamburger. The background is a dark, textured surface with some small, glowing elements. At the bottom of the cover, the text 'ALL AMERICAN ISSUE' is printed in a bold, sans-serif font.

Dear Nick Mag,

It'll never last

Dear Josh,

As of now, they're just dating. Both have very solid foundations in their hometowns and may not be willing (or able) to move if they got married.

The CELEB PAGE ^{Real}

We asked these five celebs what they love to hate and what they hate to love.

Nick Cannon, actor
What do you love to hate?

Farts. People act like they don't want to smell other people's farts, but they really do. They smell people farting and say, "Ooh, you farted." But they stick around and smell it.

Speak for yourself, Nick.

Alexis Bledel of Gilmore Girls
What do you love to hate?

Bad magazines—borderline tabloids. I refuse to buy them, but they turn up and I can't not read them. It's a bad occasional impulse.

Ray Romano of Everybody Loves Raymond
What do you hate to love?

I hate that I love corny, old '70s love songs. Leo Sayer, Air Supply, Bread—I like them all.

Jennifer Lopez, singer and actress
What do you hate to love?

I hate that I love sweets.

Ice Cube of Are We There Yet?
What do you hate to love?

I hate that I love soda and candy so much.

shorts & briefs

All the stories that are too short or brief to print...yet we do anyway!

Sweets for the

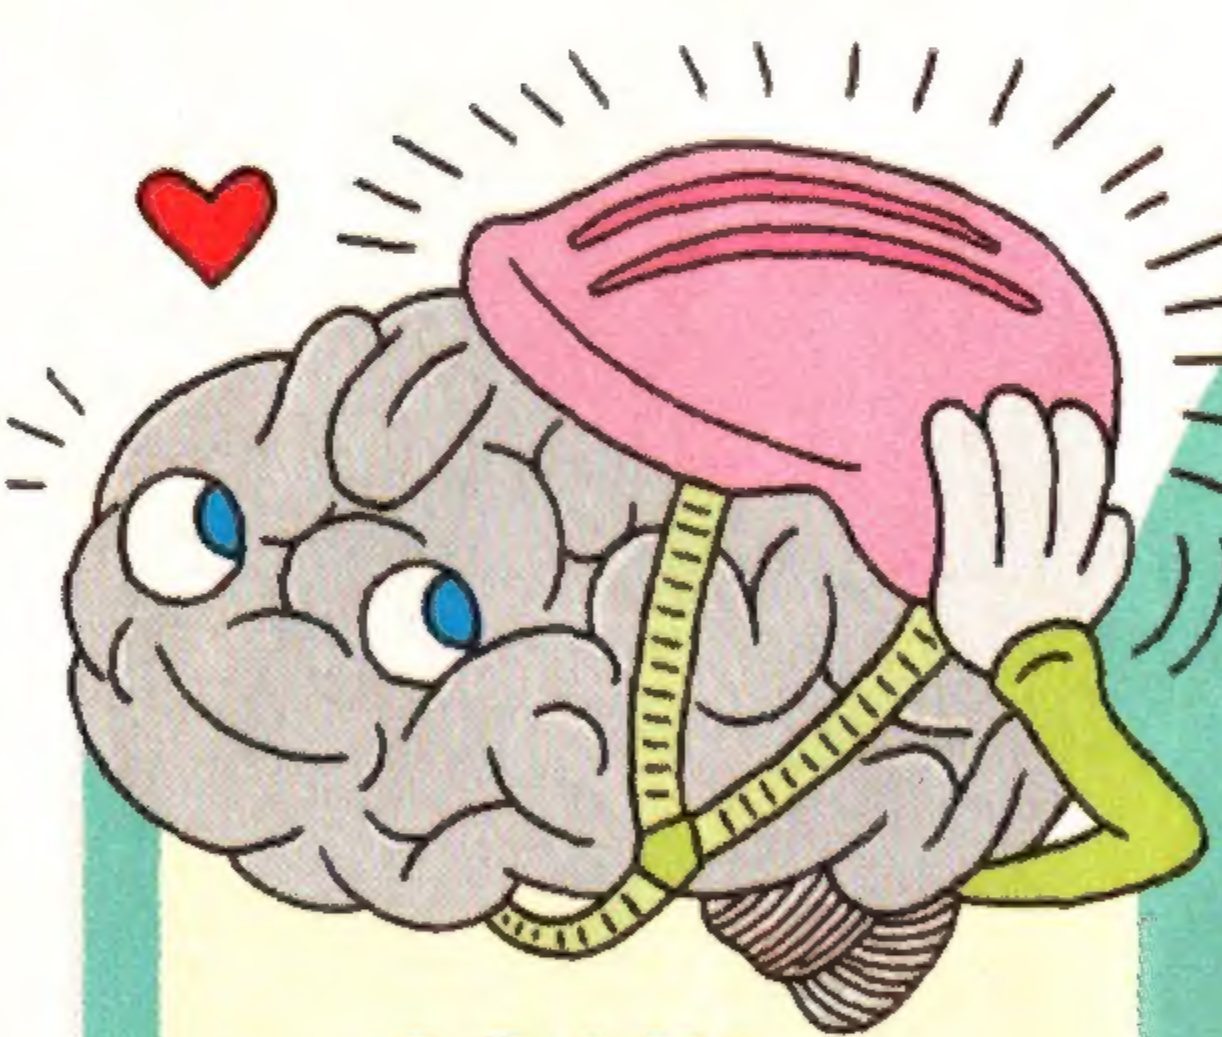

LIVER

PRO: The words liver and love share three common letters.

CON: Candy livers aren't as appetizing as candy hearts.

New Organ Nominations

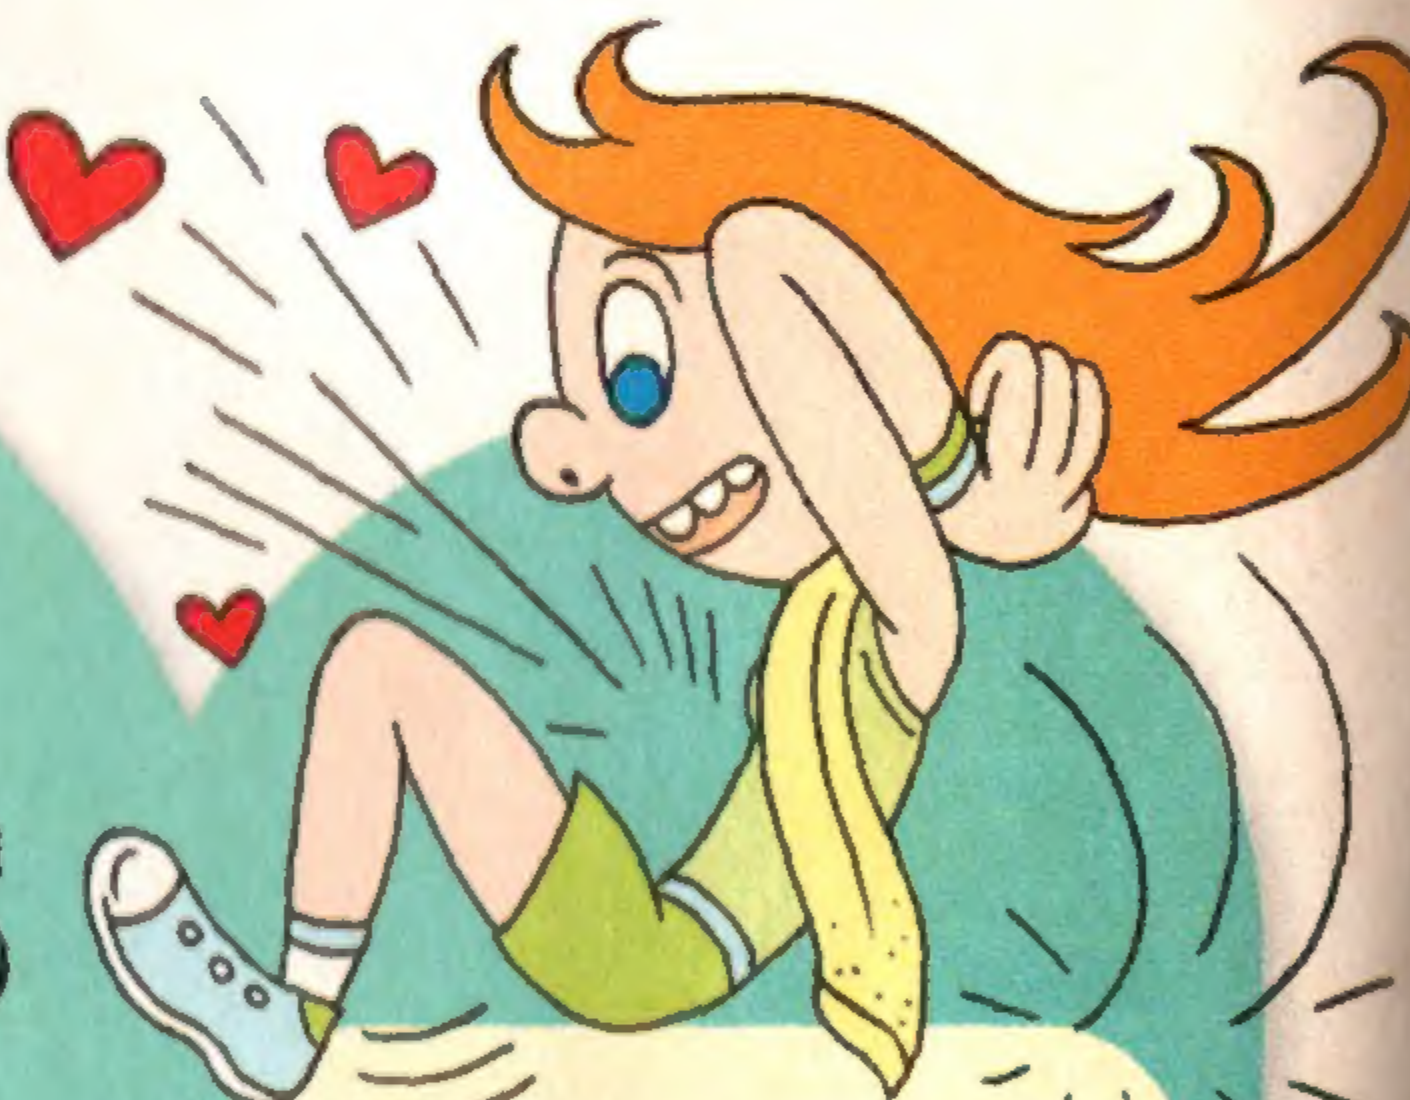

We take for granted that the heart is the organ associated with love and Valentine's Day—but really, the heart has no more to do with love than, say, the liver. Here are some pros and cons if you'd like to consider choosing a different organ as the body part of love.

BRAIN

PRO: Wearing your bike helmet would prevent "heart" break.

CON: The color of Valentine's Day would be gray.

STOMACH

PRO: You could do sit-ups to make your love stronger.

CON: It would be hard to tell the difference between being hungry and being in love.

KIDNEYS

PRO: If someone breaks your kidney, you have a second one!

CON: Kidneys make pee, after all.

There's a difference?

Not-So-Sweet

Every Valentine's Day, millions of candy hearts with sweet messages are bought, given, read, and devoured. We wish, however, there were candy hearts—like these—for people you aren't so crazy about.

Get Out of Spin the Bottle

Here are some things to say that will most definitely get you out of playing spin the bottle.

"This is a great opportunity to try out my new, razor-sharp braces."

"Could we play spin the bottle-nosed dolphin instead?"

"Watching the spinning bottle makes me dizzy. When I get dizzy, I always throw up, but I'll play if you really want me to."

"This is a no-spin zone!"

"I have huge, smelly blisters in my mouth."

"Now you'll find out why they call me chimp breath."

"I played this with my dog yesterday and it was awesome."

Let's Just Be Friends

Breaking up or telling someone that you're not that interested in them can be tough. Try some of these lines if you're tired of saying "Let's just be friends."

Let's just be archrivals in a no-holds-barred, cross-country drag race.

Let's just be pen pals. And you can move to Australia!

Let's just admire each other's choice of footwear.

Let's just tease each other mercilessly.

Let's just be our friends' friends.

Let's just watch Friends.

Let's just be French.

Hopelessly CD Devoted to You

People write love poems and give Valentine's Day cards to folks whom they might not even be talking to a few months later. We thought we'd write some poems honoring a few longer-lasting relationships.

To Instant Messaging

When I'm feeling sad, when IM down.
When I cannot :-), when I :-(.
When IM :-), my screen starts blinking!
And there UR—at me you're ;-).
To be seen w/U,
It makes me proud
And that is why I'm LOL.
U make me feel gr8, and UR gr8 2.
And BTW, IM in love w/U.

To a PlayStation 2

It's not a bunch of baloney:
I'm smitten with you, my Sony.
You're the sweetest toy I've ever found.
Our love's a game, like T. Hawk's Underground.
We both know my love is a risk.
You fill me with joy when I give you a disc.
Oh, my precious PlayStation 2...
You have cheat codes, that is true.
But I would never cheat on you.

To a Remote Control

O sweet and dear remote control,
You thrill me to my very soul.
You're the tops. You are no slouch.
I'm happy when we're on the couch.
This poem's for you, please understand,
I feel blue when you're not in hand.
Surfing, muting—it's plain to see,
Just one touch and you do it for me.

To a Portable CD Player

How do I love thee? Let me crank the tune.
I blast thee to the far side of the moon.
But with headphones on, only I can hear.
(Well, unless someone's standing very near.)
I love thee with treble, with volume, with bass—
That's why I carry you all over the place.
I'm devoted to thee; truer words were ne'er spoken.
But I shall love you no more when you are broken.

Does anybody
find this picture
remotely weird?

ALL YOU NEED IS LOVE/HATE

It seems as though almost every song is a love song. Not everyone is in love, however. Here's your chance to write a song that could go either way. Just circle all the pink or all the green words in the song below, then sing it aloud.

My world has no meaning if I'm without/with you any longer.
The more I know you, the more our love feels stronger/wronger.
Baby, I can feel it growing like a flower/stinking like old ham every single day.
The feelings are so strong that I can't stand to be away/my hair is turning gray.

I remember when/curse the day I first saw your face.
I want to build a monument/parking lot on that very place.
On that night, your eyes shone like the morning sun/breath stank like a moldy cinnamon bun.
That's when I knew you were definitely/absolutely not the one.

Babe, I got this thunder/sinking feeling in my heart.
'Cause your precious love is like a brand-new start/smellier than a fart.
I'm dyin' little by little/havin' a blast without you near.
And when I look back, this has been the greatest/a completely wasted year.

Honey, you are the sweetest/most annoying person I've ever kissed,
And I cannot wait to kiss you in the morning mist/delete you from my cell phone list.
And walk down the aisle with/-no, run away from you one fine day.
Oh, baby, I've been all torn up since you've been/please, please stay far away.

ANTI CRUSH KIT

This page features a cutout Anti-Crush Kit that you can use to repulse an unwanted admirer.

First, sign a parent's name to the note below. Then attach a photo of yourself to the wanted poster. Carefully cut out the note and wanted poster and make sure they get seen by the person you want to repel.

Dear Principal,
Please excuse my child from class next week as we must go to the doctor for a routine nostril cleaning. As you know, if we don't get this done once a month, my child's booger buildup will cause health hazards throughout the state.

Very truly yours,

FIND YOUR

DREAM BOAT

by Jason Shiga

To find a picture of your dreamboat—your perfect mate—answer the following survey and find the picture indicated by your total points. After you've recovered from finding your sweetie, try different answers to each question to test out all the possibilities.

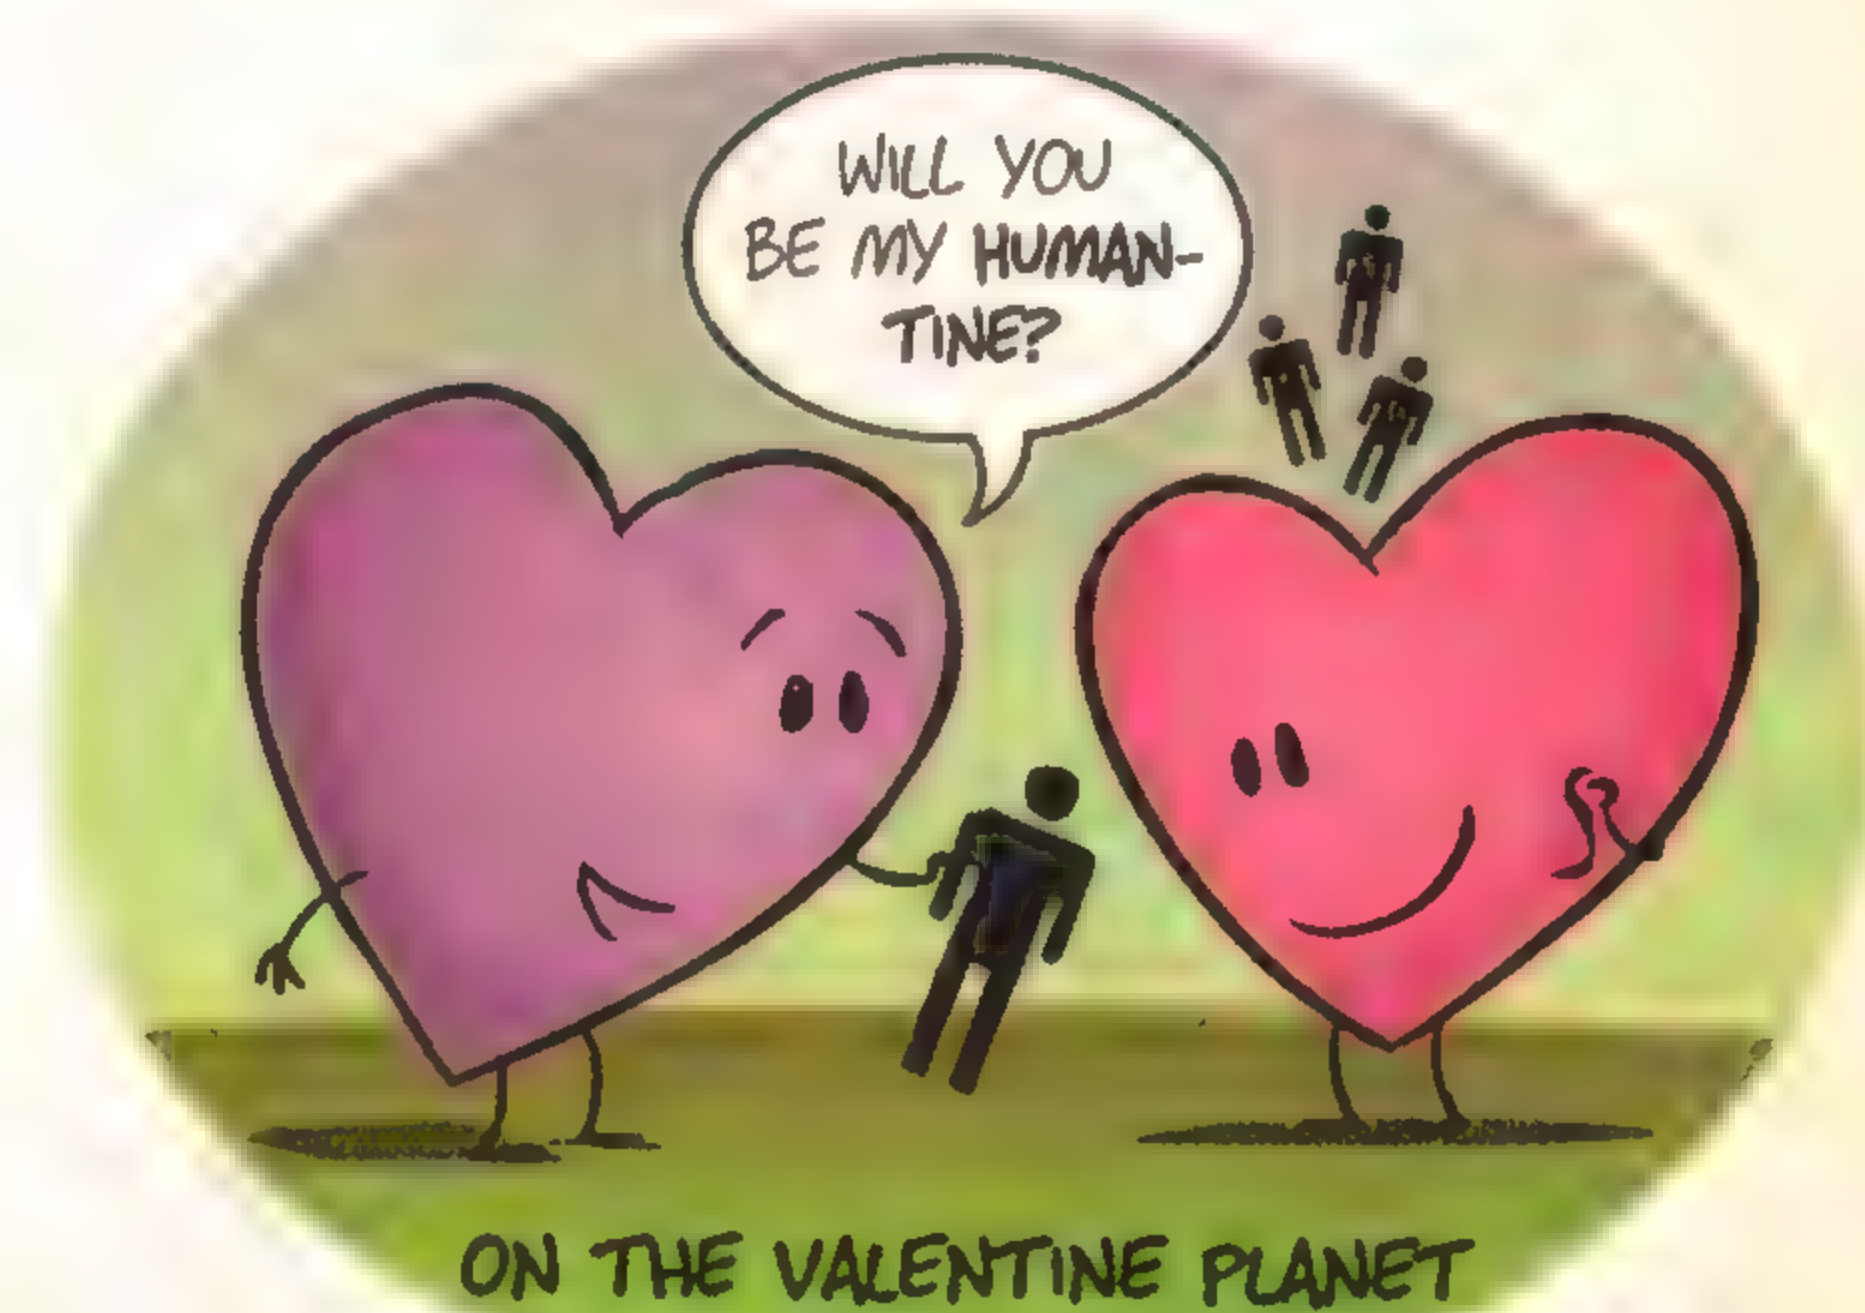

Note: Zero points for something does not mean it's bad. It's just the survey's way of calculating your preferences.

1. Do you like boys (1 point), girls (2 points), or neither (3 points)?
2. Do you like largeness (0 points) or smallness (3 points)?
3. Do you prefer cuteness (0 points) or grossness (6 points)?
4. Do you prefer a mate who's old (0 points) or young (12 points)?
5. Do you prefer lots of hair (0 points) or the color green (24 points)?

Real

What's it like to play someone whom audiences love to hate?
Lisa D. Carroll talked to a few stars to find out.

Why is your character so mean?

Tom Felton—Draco Malfoy in the Harry Potter movies

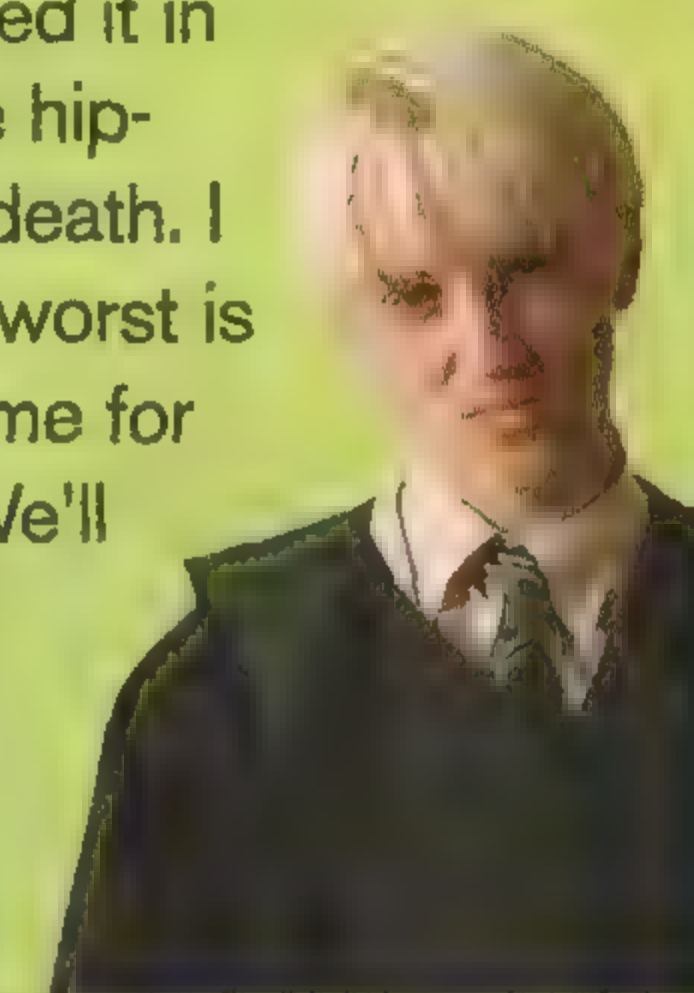

"He's bullied by his father, so he takes his anger out on other children. Most bullies have been bullied by others."

Has anyone ever held it against you in real life?

"I get some negative feedback from very small children, but it proves I've done my role well! I've even received letters from Harry supporters saying, 'Leave him alone!' Daniel [Radcliffe, who plays Harry] and I find it rather humorous that people take it so seriously."

What is the worst thing your character has done?

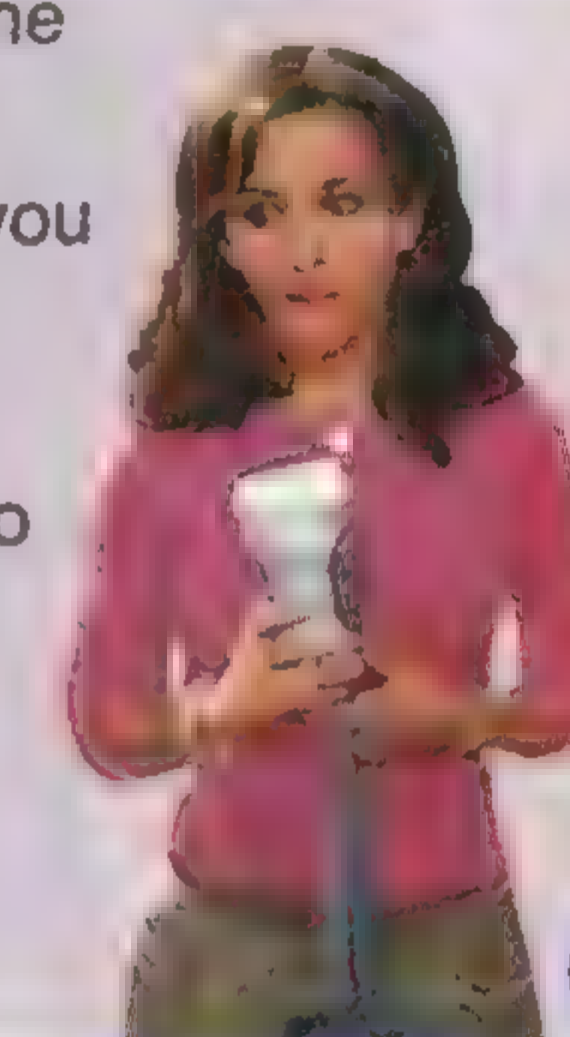

"He rubbed it in about the hippogriff's death. I think the worst is yet to come for Malfoy. We'll let J.K. Rowling decide that one."

Lacey Chabert—Gretchen Wieners in Mean Girls

"I think Gretchen is so insecure that being mean is the easiest way for her to feel better about herself. She wants so desperately to be liked."

"After I did the film, people asked, 'Are you really that mean?' I'm glad I was so convincing."

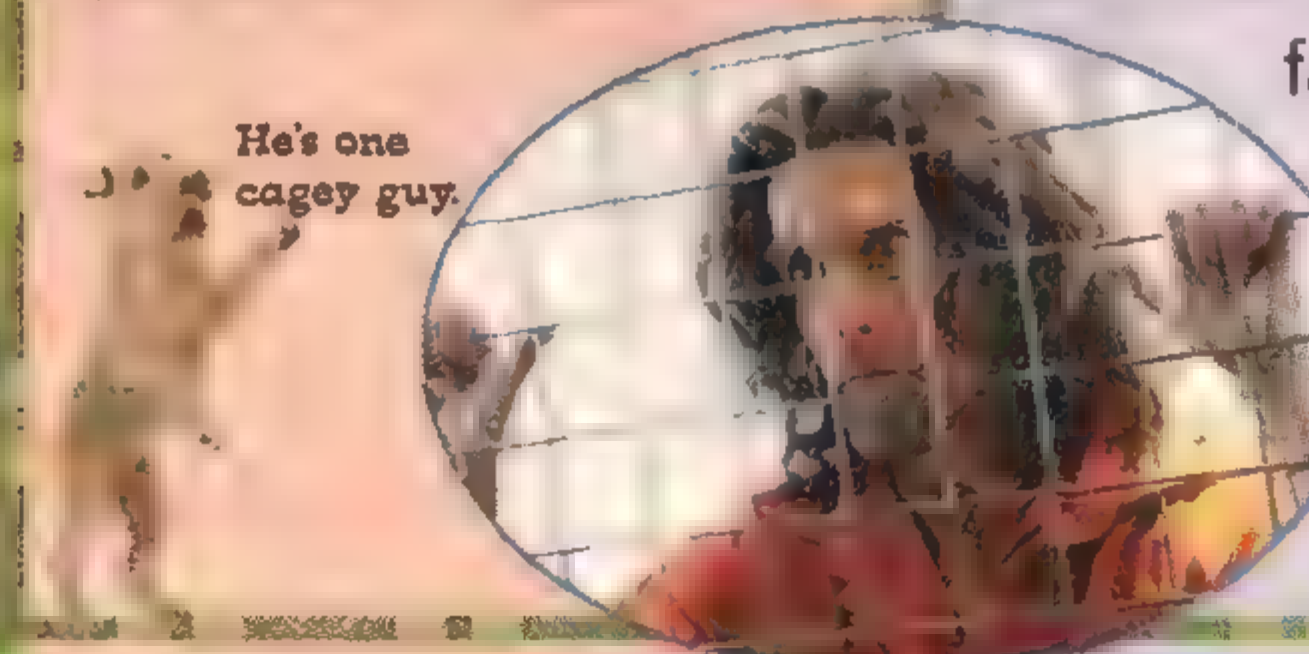

"Probably spreading rumors, because they can be pretty destructive and take on a life of their own."

Lacey with Rachel McAdams in Mean Girls

John Boyer—Lex Luthor in Superman Returns

"I think he's misunderstood, not mean. Most cruelty and meanness come out of fear."

"When I go to the gym, people recognize me and seem to think I have a shady aura, but I can disarm them pretty fast. Recently, I met a kid who was shaking, but after I talked to him, he relaxed."

"I think giving [his son] Lex shock treatment might be near the top—but he really needed to help Lex, who was in big trouble!"

James Earl Jones—the voice of Darth Vader in the Star Wars movies

"It's about gaining as much power as possible—magical and psychic power. Darth Vader was angry as a young man, and he bought into the Emperor's evil."

"My son was three when he saw the first Star Wars movie, and he hated that I played Darth Vader. He said, 'Poppa, how could you contribute to an evil man like that?'"

"I thought the worst thing Darth Vader did was the trade-off he made for power."

They Take the Wedding Cake

Anne D. Bernstein found out about the wacky things some people will do for love.

HERE GLUGS THE BRIDE

John Santino and Toni Wilson took the plunge in September 2003 in the world's largest underwater wedding. More than 100 scuba divers watched the happy couple exchange vows 11 feet below the surface of the Caribbean Sea off the island of St. Croix. The bride wore white Lycra shorts and a veil that was weighed down with shells and sea glass. The groom's black Lycra outfit included a bow tie. Instead of glubbing their I dos, the couple held up sheets of laminated paper with the vows printed on them. The marriage license was signed with a waterproof pencil. Once the ceremony was complete, everyone surfaced and went to eat hamburgers on dry land.

CHECKOUT THAT COUPLE

Pete Freeman and Jill Piggott met in a superstore where he was shopping and she was a cashier. When they decided to get married, the English couple chose to hold the ceremony in the same store. On February 28, 2004, instead of walking down a church aisle, Jill and her bridesmaids rode up an escalator. Then, 110 guests and dozens of shoppers watched the couple tie the knot in the shoe department. When the I dos were done, the newlyweds left the store accompanied by unusual wedding music: A bagpiper played the store's theme song.

WHEEEEEEE DO!

Matt Crowther and Betsy Abrams both love roller coasters, so on April 22, 1990, they got married on the Cannonball roller coaster at the Lake Winnepesaukah Amusement Park in Georgia. The ceremony was held on the train as it sat on the tracks, and the couple's vows were broadcast over the park's loudspeaker system. Then the wedding party was treated to a wild ride on the coaster. Today, Matt and Betsy are still seeking thrills: They are senior meteorologists at The Weather Channel and have a passion for storm chasing.

SKI LOVES ME

Vicky Lowry married her husband, Michael, five years ago atop a 10,086-foot snowy mountain in Wyoming. The athletic couple had invited some friends to go on a hike and didn't tell them it would end with a wedding. When the group reached the summit after a 1,655-foot vertical climb, Vicky ducked into a snow cave. She took a veil, bouquet, and bag of rice from her backpack and walked out humming "Here Comes the Bride." Her friends thought it was a joke until another member of the group—a judge—pulled a black robe from his pack and put it on. Once the happy couple was pronounced man and wife, everyone skied down the mountain.

THREE-RING CEREMONY

In 1996, Antanas Mockus, the mayor of Bogotá, Colombia, surprised the city's residents when he decided to hold his wedding in a circus tent. On January 27, he and his bride, Adriana Cordoba, entered the tent riding on an elephant named Junior. Then they exchanged vows in a cage full of Bengali tigers. Everyone who attended had to buy a ticket to the festivities. Even the best man, the bridesmaids, and the couple's family had to pay up. The money (estimated at $25,000) was donated to a charity for Bogotá's children. □

Jamie Lynn 101

After two seasons on All That, eighth-grader Jamie Lynn Spears has landed her own show, Zoey 101. In addition to singing the theme song, Jamie Lynn stars as Zoey Brooks, one of the first girls to attend the previously all-boy Pacific Coast Academy. David Lewman visited the set and caught up with Jamie Lynn.

Jamie Lynn on Zoey:

"Zoey isn't afraid to say what she believes. If she likes something, she's going to do it—nobody is stopping her."

Role model in acting:

Kate Hudson

Favorite food on the set:

"The Caesar salad is really good."

School on the set:

"We have a tutor who we have to see. It's kind of hard, but it's fun."

Coollest thing about having her own show:

The big trailer, which houses the wardrobe, hair, and makeup departments. "And, the more scenes you're in, the more clothes you get to wear, so I love that."

Zoey's brother vs. Jamie Lynn's brother:

"Zoey's brother, Dustin (left), is so funny, and he has the cutest voice. He's a lot nicer than my brother." [laughs]

Familiar faces:

Many of Jamie Lynn's friends from her home state of Louisiana have visited her at her second home—on the set of Zoey 101.

"My best friend, Jessica, came up for a while and we went to Six Flags. Some of my friends have gotten to be extras on the show."

Prank on the set:

"One time Kristin [Herrera] put ranch dressing in Matthew [Underwood]'s drink, and he kept drinking it."

Favorite thing to do on a rainy afternoon:

"I'd probably stay inside and watch scary movies with my girlfriends."

How Jamie Lynn spends her free time:

Cheerleading and playing softball

Scenes that were tough to shoot:

"We shot one episode on the beach, and it was hard because you can't control the breeze, the sand, or when it gets dark out."

Parklane vs. Pacific Coast Academy:

Parklane is the school Jamie Lynn attends near her home in Kentwood, Louisiana. "It's not as fancy as Pacific Coast Academy, which has lounges and dorms. Also, P.C.A. is on the ocean, and my school is in the country."

Funniest cast member of Zoey 101:

"Erin Sanders (left). She plays Quinn. She's really funny in real life, just like her character."

Pets:

"We have two guard dogs, which are German shepherds. We also have a poodle, a Yorkie, and a Pomeranian."

Dream guest star:

Ashton Kutcher

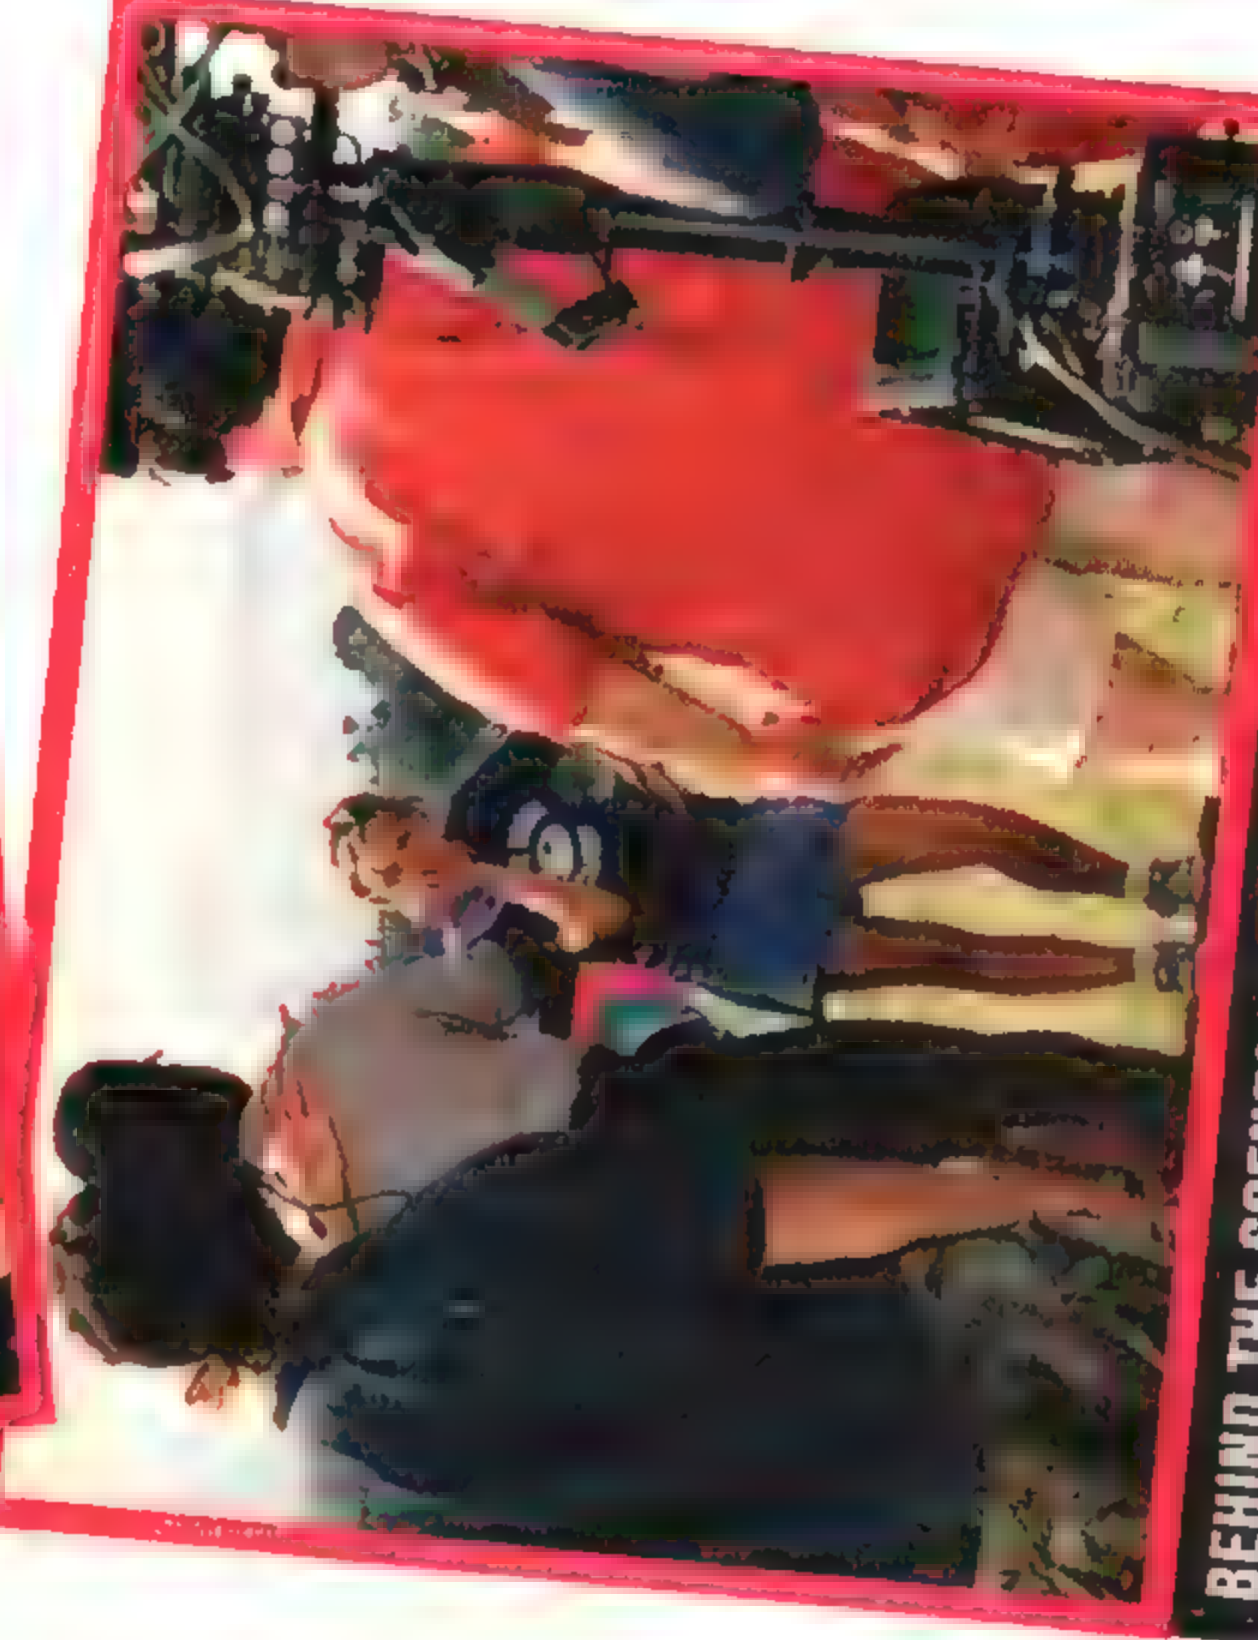

I have some friends at SPCA.

Show time is subject to change. Show airs one hour earlier in the central time zone. Check nick.com or local listings for details.

Zoey 101

airs every Sunday at 8 PM in TEENick.

Aang in There

Nick's newest series, Avatar: The Last Airbender, kicks off on Monday, February 21, at 8 PM.* Here's a sneak peek at the show.

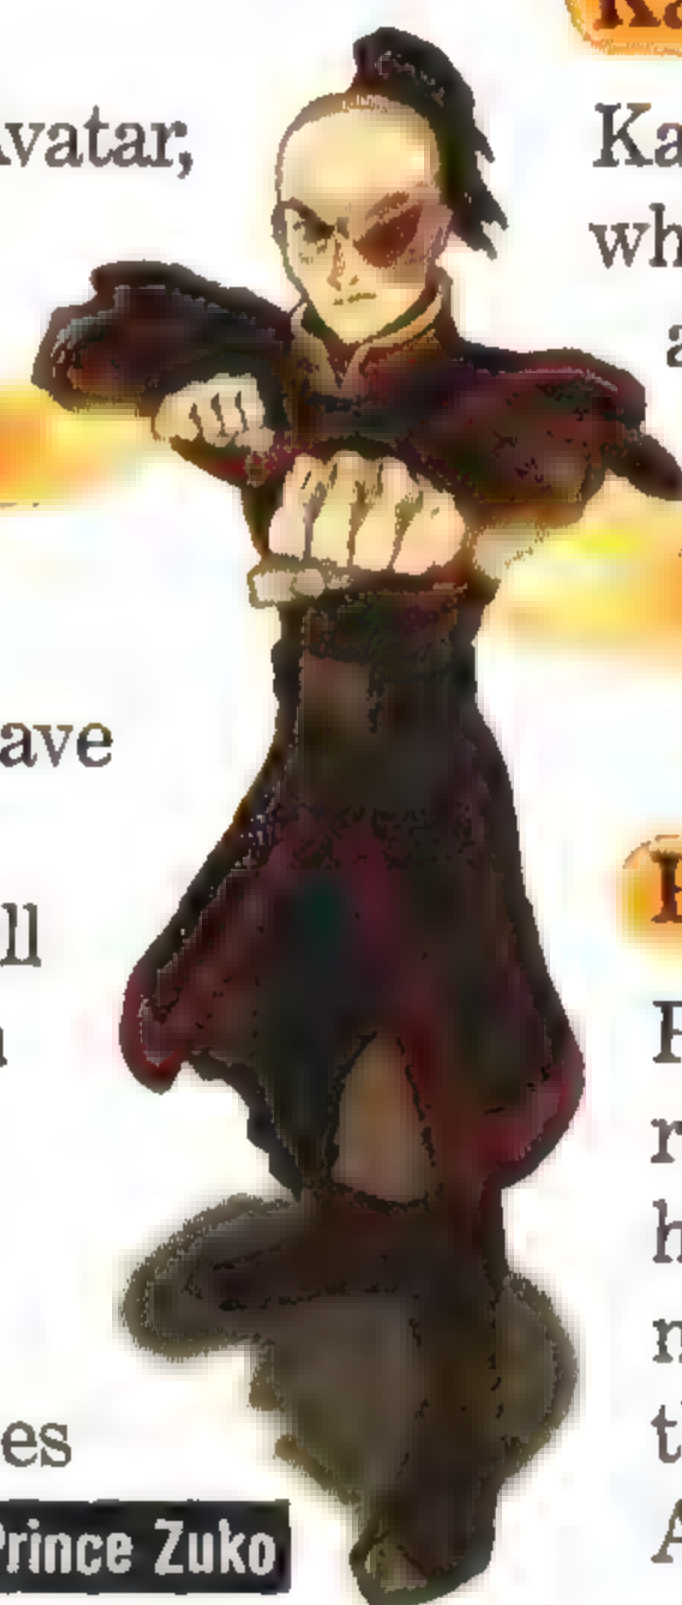

The Story So Far

The world of Avatar: The Last Airbender is made up of four nations based on the four elements: Air, Earth, Fire, and Water. The Avatar is the person who can "bend," or control, the elements. He or she keeps nature in balance, which maintains peace between nations. The last Avatar died 100 years ago. Shortly afterward, the Fire Nation started a war and is now close to ruling the globe. Will the new Avatar emerge in time to save the planet?

Aang

Aang (above), the next Avatar, is a 12-year-old boy who has been frozen within an iceberg for 100 years. He has a mischievous personality, but he will have to find his more serious side if he is going to fulfill his destiny. So far he can bend air, but he still has many skills to master before he is ready to assume his responsibilities as the Avatar.

Prince Zuko

Katara and Sokka

Katara and Sokka are teenage siblings who discover Aang. After Aang defrosts, they accompany him on his adventures. Katara is caring and passionate and tries to protect Aang. Sokka is more stubborn and sarcastic than his sister, but he is also strong and loyal.

Prince Zuko

Prince Zuko is the son of Fire Lord Ozai, ruler of the Fire Nation. After challenging his father, Zuko is forced to leave his home nation. He may return on one condition: He must bring back the Avatar, dead or alive. So Zuko devotes his life to pursuing Aang, and it seems he will stop at nothing to get him.

Sokka

Sokka to 'em.

Real

HANNAH TETER snowboarder

What she loves:

"Snowboarding allows me to travel the world and meet all types of people."

What she hates:

"Sometimes, after being on the road for so long, I get burned out and miss being home."

FREDDY ADU soccer player

What he loves:

"You don't have to be the biggest, fastest, or strongest to play the game. It's all about using your head."

What he hates:

"The amount of time we run on the field is tough. We go for forty-five minutes nonstop, then we play another forty-five nonstop. The fitness level is a challenge."

ANDY RODDICK tennis player

What he loves:

"The competition."

What he hates:

"There are times when I hate playing, because I'm losing."

PEYTON MANNING football player

What he loves:

"I love the competition, and I enjoy the camaraderie with my teammates. We basically live with each other for seven months each year. It's a grind, but it's so rewarding when you win."

What he hates:

"It doesn't feel good to get hit by a three-hundred-pound defensive lineman, but that is part of the game."

Hey, Peyton! I'm open!

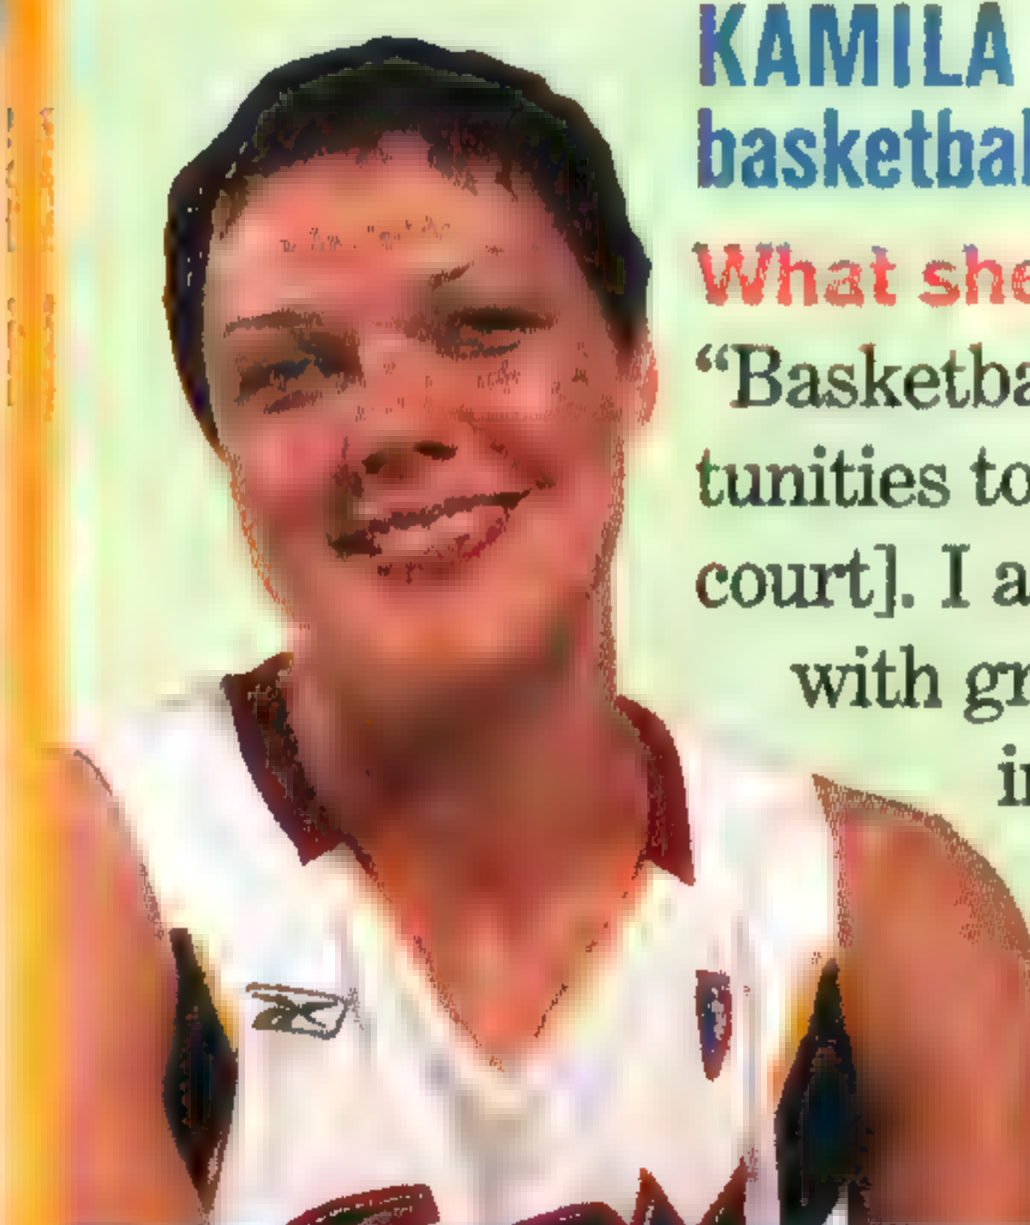

KAMILA VODICHKOVA basketball player

What she loves:

"Basketball gives me many opportunities to express myself [on the court]. I also get to meet and work with great people and travel to interesting places."

What she hates:

"I hate that a career in basketball is so short."

SHAUN WHITE snowboarder

What he loves:

"I love snowboarding because of how much fun it is. I have been snowboarding for ten years and every day is as much fun as the first."

What he hates:

"It can be difficult to travel sometimes, especially when your plane is late or your luggage gets lost."

Released Parties aren't responsible for telephonic, human/computer failures, problems/errors, lost/late prize claims, 2nd Chance entries, or Game Play entry information, garbled/delayed electronic communications, interruptions in service due to repairs, upgrades, repairs, modifications or other causes, failures/malfunctions of connections, phones, phone lines or telephone systems, traffic congestion on the internet or at any web site, technical/mechanical malfunctions, or other malfunctions/errors, whether caused by equipment, programming, human error or otherwise relating to or in connection with the Promotion, or for printing, typographical/other errors appearing in these Rules or other Promotion-related materials, or for any injury or damage to participant's or any other person's computer relating to/resulting from participation in Promotion or downloading any materials. Only the number of prizes stated herein will be awarded. In the event, due to computer, technical, mechanical, seed/malfunction, typographical/other errors appearing in these Rules or other Promotion-related materials, or for any injury or damage to participant's or any other person's computer relating to/resulting from participation in Promotion or downloading any materials, more valid prize claims are rec'd for any prize level than number of prizes stated herein for that level, Sponsor may conduct a random drawing from among all eligible, non-suspect prize claims rec'd for such level to award specified number of prizes for that level. Prizes: (1) Grand Prize: 5-day/4-night trip for 2 to 3 2005 NBA regular season games designated by Sponsor, consisting of coach air transportation from major airport nearest to winner's U.S. residence to 1st game & coach air transportation to remaining 2 games & return coach air transportation from final game to winner's U.S. city of residence, standard double-occupancy hotel accommodations at each game location, 2 game tickets at each game, ground transportation to/from airport & applicable hotel at each game location, hand-signed NBA memorabilia including 1 basketball signed by Kevin Garnett, 1 basketball signed by select 2004 NBA rookies, & 1 jersey signed by a 2004 NBA rookie, & 1 season's worth of 2005-06 NBA Licensed Trading Cards (Approximate Retail Value "ARV"=$7,500). Actual prize value will vary depending on departure city & dates & locations of designated games. Travel restrictions may apply. Travel & hotel arrangements determined by Sponsor. Winner & guest must travel together on same itinerary, & any minor traveling companion must be accompanied by a parent/guardian. If winner is a minor, he/she must be accompanied by a parent/guardian. Trip must be taken on dates/times designated by Sponsor or prize will be forfeited & may be awarded to an alternate winner. Sponsor can provide ground transportation in lieu of air transportation without compensation/substitution for difference (if any) in value. If any designated game(s) or any other prize-related activity is canceled/postponed, travel prize will be awarded less applicable prize-related activity(ies) & Sponsor will substitute that activity(ies) with an item(s)/activity(ies) of equal or greater value. Tickets subject to terms/conditions as specified by issuer. Seat locations at designated games determined by Sponsor. ARV of hand-signed merchandise subject to fluctuation. Season of Trading Cards includes approx. 600 packs. Final quantity of packs awarded based on total number of releases & subject to change. Prize details not specifically set forth herein at Sponsor's discretion. (5) 1st Prizes: Skybox™ by Maytag™ Home Vending Machine with NBA Panel Kit (58.5" Hx24" Wx22.1") (ARV=$540 ea.). Answers Real Funky & Miriam's House of Random Words (page 45): The correct definition of importune is 2—to persistently urge or press for something.

Rated Q for Quiz (page 48): 1-B, 2-C, 3-A, 4-D, 5-C, 6-B, 7-B, 8-D.

GOOF TROUPE:

In the December/January issue, we included information about an episode of SpongeBob SquarePants that ended up not airing. Also, in the November 2004 issue, we forgot to credit artist Sean Taggart for illustrating "Funky & Miriam's House of Random Words" on page 102. Anyone know the definition of sorry?
